- Healing In Sync Through Neuro Frequency and Energy Recalibration

Our bodies contain trillions of cells with varying regeneration timelines. Skin cells renew every few weeks, while skeletal muscle cells can take years. Some brain cells can regenerate slowly, but many are designed to last a lifetime.

SENTIENCE IN SCIENCE

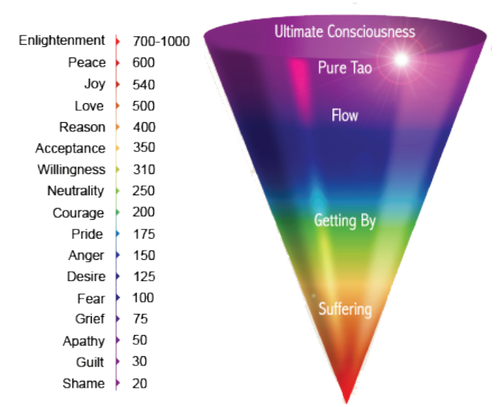

Dr. Bruce H. Lipton, Ph.D., discusses in The Biology of Belief how cells receive and interpret information. His research suggests that DNA is influenced by signals, including energetic messages coming from our thoughts. If our mind can influence our cells, genes, and DNA, then we can literally "think our way to great health".

Accordingly, Dr. David R. Hawkins, M.D., Ph.D., concluded that we are all born with an energetic frequency. After conducting over 250,000 calibrations during 20 years of research, Dr. Hawkins established a logarithmic scale that measures the vibrational energy of various states of being, with shame as the lowest and enlightenment as the highest.

The Law of Attraction is based on the principle that "like attracts like" in that our thoughts and emotions emit energy into the field of consciousness. We attract into reality those things and experiences that resonate with our current vibration. Manifestation, therefore, is frequency in action. But when life's trials and tribulations push us into less-than-ideal states of being, how do we create and sustain a positive mindset?

WE ARE HUMAN BEINGS, NOT HUMAN DOINGS

Without even realising when or how it occurs, prolonged periods of stress or trauma can change our cells and personalities. Stress is felt but often suppressed. In the attempt to 'do' everything, there is no time to just 'be'. The effects of constant overwhelm and burnout without recharge can have serious physiological and psychological consequences.

Hakwins Scale of Consciousness

Earthing - the simple act of walking barefoot on natural ground can stimulate the parasympathetic nervous system through energy exchange. Yet even with the best intentions, our self-care often takes a back seat. When a handful of supplements every day begins to feel like a chore, how else can we help ourselves to live and feel better?

THE REALITY OF AGEING AND LONGEVITY

- 80% of ageing results from cellular damage and oxidative stress, leading to fatigue and chronic illness.
- Mitochondrial function decreases by 10% each decade after 30, leading to lower energy levels and accelerated ageing.
- By age 30, most people lose 1% of collagen annually, resulting in visible signs of ageing such as fine lines, wrinkles, sagging skin, and joint pain.
- Alzheimer's disease accounts for 60-70% of the 55 million people living with dementia worldwide.

HEALING IN SYNC

In the journey towards achieving wellness and wholeness, sound therapy for one is a powerful approach. Consider the influence that music has in your life – a random song on the radio can instantly alter your mood, evoking different emotions, whether positive or negative. Sound is sentimental. How different would the experience be if you listened to spa music at the gym or gym music at the spa? Most of us have different playlists for many of our daily activities, such as driving, working, or studying. This is because sound has a frequency, and frequency can be felt.

Low-frequency sounds, such as deep hums or gentle rumbles, tend to have a soothing effect on the body. They can slow the heart rate, lower blood pressure, and relax muscles. Conversely, high-frequency sounds—like sharp whistles or screeching noises—often stimulate the nervous system, leading to increased alertness and physical tension.

Sound travels in wave form. These waves are characterised by their frequency and amplitude. Frequency indicates how many times a sound wave vibrates each second. Amplitude relates to the intensity of the vibrations.

Measured in hertz (Hz), every object has a natural frequency at which it vibrates. When these vibrations are strong enough, they produce sound that we can hear and feel. When the frequency of one object matches that of a second object, such as a frequency device, resonance occurs.

Bioresonance uses frequencies as a form of therapy to help restore balance within the body. If every cell emits a unique vibrational pattern, then disruptions in these patterns may be linked to stress or illness. Frequency devices can send correction signals to trigger cell renewal and regeneration in the body.

At Theraneutix, we craft a tailored experience for our clients. By applying the principles of bioresonance therapies, including neuro-frequency, we assist you in resetting, restoring, and recalibrating. Going beyond binaural beats and incorporating quantum healing, we provide natural, non-invasive methods to regain balance, reduce stress, and support healing where possible.

"If you want to find the secrets of the universe, think in terms of energy, frequency, and vibration."
— Nikola Tesla

Our approach is not meant to diagnose or replace medical treatment but to serve as an additional resource that works in sync to help your mind and body heal.

No contact, no needles and no medication. Just a safe, comforting, and luxurious experience for anyone. Therapy is tailored to your individual needs, using:

- 10,000+ Rife Frequencies that address specific health issues with precision.
- Pulsed Electro-Magnetic Field (PEMF) Therapy to enhance cellular functions that support recovery.
- Scalar Energy, which aligns your body with natural energy patterns incorporating light therapy, and crystal resonance.
- Sound Therapy targeting Alpha, Theta, and Gamma brainwaves.

Popular transformation programs include:

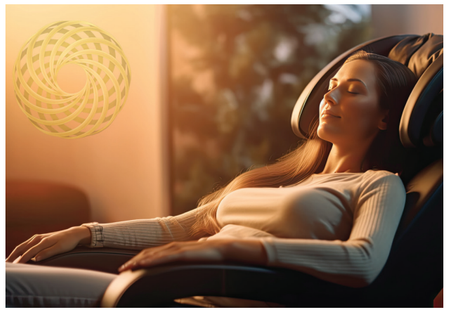

- Alzheimer's and Dementia Prevention
- Anti-Ageing and Detoxification
- Anxiety Disorders
- Autoimmune Diseases
- Burnout / Stress / PTSD
- Chronic Inflammation (Pain, Joint Issues, Muscle Recovery)
- Grief / Depression
- Cell Regeneration hindered by bad habits (i.e., smoking)
- Hormone Regulation (including Menopause)
- Insomnia
- Low Libido
- Medication Side Effects
- Migraines
- Mood Disorders / Low Energy
- Post-Operative Recovery (Surgical or Aesthetic)
- Weight Management

QI COILS ARE NOW IN SOUTH AFRICA

Theraneutix proudly introduces the globally acclaimed Qi Coils to South Africa. Qi (pronounced "chi") means "energy" and is regarded as the vital force of all living beings. As pioneers of The Resonance Movement, Qi Life develops innovative, high-quality technologies in devices designed to eliminate energetic blockages, rewire limiting patterns, and boost innate wellness, abundance, and vitality, enabling you to enhance your mind, body, and spirit. This unlocks your infinite potential to live with clarity, purpose, and resonance. Compared to other available technologies, Qi Coils have proven to be superior in terms of features, functionality, and benefits.
